

I hope you all enjoyed last week and the much-needed three-day weekend ☺. We are now at week five and rocking and rolling right along.

Mr. Erskine progress check-in coming soon. I will be doing a pacing check in the week of September 18th, to make sure everyone is on pace in all courses (yes, even PE and ART). During this week, if significantly behind pace, you will receive a warning email from me just to encourage you to catch up. The following week, I will do another check in and anyone significantly behind, we will have come to campus on October 6th to work with teachers and catch up from 12:30 – 3:30pm.

Thank you all for your dedication with the testing. We appreciate each of you for arriving on time and giving it your absolute best. Remember, this first round is simply the baseline, and we will only look to build upon this and see some awesome growth as we progress. Ms. Harris is very accommodating, please just let her know what is going on if something comes up.
