§ 7001. Definitions.

In addition to the definitions set forth in Civil Code section 1798.140, for purposes of these regulations:

~~(a) “Affirmative authorization” means an action that demonstrates the intentional decision by the consumer to opt-in to the sale of personal information. Within the context of a parent or guardian acting on behalf of a consumer under 13 years of age, it means that the parent or guardian has provided consent to the sale of the consumer’s personal information in accordance with the methods set forth in section 7070. For consumers 13 years of age and older, it is demonstrated through a two-step process whereby the consumer shall first, clearly request to opt-in and then second, separately confirm their choice to opt-in.~~

(a) “Agency” means the California Privacy Protection Agency established by Civil Code section 1798.199.10 et seq.

(b) “Alternative Opt-out Link” means the alternative opt-out link that a business may provide instead of posting the two separate “Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information” and “Limit the Use of My Sensitive Personal Information” links as set forth in Civil Code section 1798.135, subdivision (a)(3), and specified in section 7015.

(c) ~~(b)~~ “Attorney General” means the California Attorney General or any officer or employee of the California Department of Justice acting under the authority of the California Attorney General.

- (d) ~~(e)~~ “Authorized agent” means a natural person or a business entity ~~registered with the Secretary of State to conduct business in California~~ that a consumer has authorized to act on their behalf subject to the requirements set forth in section 7063.
- (e) ~~(d)~~ “Categories of sources” means types or groupings of persons or entities from which a business collects personal information about consumers, described with enough particularity to provide consumers with a meaningful understanding of the type of person or entity. They may include the consumer directly, advertising networks, internet service providers, data analytics providers, government entities, operating systems and platforms, social networks, and data brokers.
- (f) ~~(e)~~ “Categories of third parties” means types or groupings of third parties with whom the business shares personal information, described with enough particularity to provide consumers with a meaningful understanding of the type of third party. They may include advertising networks, internet service providers, data analytics providers, government entities, operating systems and platforms, social networks, and data brokers.
- (g) ~~(f)~~ “CCPA” means the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018, Civil Code section 1798.100 et seq.
- (h) ~~(g)~~ “COPPA” means the Children’s Online Privacy Protection Act, 15 U.S.C. sections 6501 to ~~6506~~ ~~6508~~ and 16 Code of Federal Regulations part 312-~~5~~.
- (i) “Disproportionate effort” within the context of a business, service provider, contractor, or third party responding to a consumer request means the time and/or resources expended by the business, service provider, contractor, or third party to respond to the individualized request significantly outweighs the reasonably foreseeable impact to the consumer by not responding, taking into account applicable circumstances, such as the size of the business, service provider, contractor, or third party, the nature of the request, and the technical limitations impacting their ability to respond. For example, responding to a consumer request to know may require disproportionate effort when the personal information that is the subject of the request is not in a searchable or readily-accessible format, is maintained only for legal or compliance purposes, is not sold or used for any commercial purpose, and there is no reasonably foreseeable material impact to the consumer by not responding. By contrast, the impact to the consumer of denying a request to correct inaccurate information that the business uses and/or sells may outweigh the burden on the business, service provider, contractor, or third party in honoring the request when the reasonably foreseeable consequence of denying the request would be the denial of services or opportunities to the consumer. A business, service provider, contractor, or third party that has failed to put in place adequate processes and procedures to receive and process consumer requests in accordance with the CCPA and these regulations cannot claim that responding to a consumer’s request requires disproportionate effort.
- (j) ~~(h)~~ “Employment benefits” means retirement, health, and other benefit programs, services, or products to which consumers and their dependents or their beneficiaries receive access through the consumer’s employer.
- (k) ~~(i)~~ “Employment-related information” means personal information that is collected by the business about a natural person for the reasons identified in Civil Code section 1798.145,

- (k) ~~“Household” means a person or group of people who: (1) reside at the same address, (2) share a common device or the same service provided by a business, and (3) are identified by the business as sharing the same group account or unique identifier.~~

- (p) “Nonbusiness” means a person or entity that does not meet the definition of a “business” as defined in Civil Code section 1798.140, subdivision (d). For example, non-profits and government entities are nonbusinesses because “business” is defined, among other things, to include only entities “organized or operated for the profit or financial benefit of its shareholders or other owners.”
- (q) ~~(f)~~ “Notice at eCollection” means the notice given by a business to a consumer at or before the point at which a business collects personal information from the consumer as required by Civil Code section 1798.100, subdivisions (a) and (b), and specified in these regulations.

offered to any consumer related to the collection, retention, ~~or sale,~~ or sharing of personal information, including the denial of goods or services to the consumer.

(w) ~~(p)~~ “Privacy policy,” as referred to in Civil Code sections 1798.130, subdivision (a)(5), and 1798.135, subdivision (c)(2), means the statement that a business shall make available to consumers describing the business’s ~~practices, both~~ online and offline information practices; ~~regarding the collection, use, disclosure, and sale of personal information~~, and ~~of~~ the rights of consumers regarding their own personal information.

- (4) Categories of personal information that the business sold or disclosed for a business purpose about the consumer;
- (5) Categories of third parties to whom the personal information was sold or disclosed for a business purpose; and
- (6) The business or commercial purpose for collecting or selling personal information.

(aa) “Request to limit” means a consumer request that a business limit the use and disclosure of the consumer’s sensitive personal information, pursuant to Civil Code section 1798.121, subdivision (a).

(bb) ~~(s)~~ “Request to opt-in to sale/sharing” means ~~the affirmative authorization an action demonstrating that the consumer has consented to the business’s sale or sharing of that the business may sell~~ personal information about the consumer by a parent or guardian of a consumer less than 13 years of age, ~~or~~ by a consumer at least 13 ~~and less than 16~~ years of age, ~~or by a consumer who had previously opted out of the sale of their personal information.~~

§ 7002. Restrictions on the Collection and Use of Personal Information.

- (a) In accordance with Civil Code section 1798.100, subdivision (c), a business’s collection, use, retention, and/or sharing of a consumer’s personal information shall be reasonably necessary and proportionate to achieve:

- (1) The purpose(s) for which the personal information was collected or processed, which shall comply with the requirements set forth in subsection (b); or
 - (2) Another disclosed purpose that is compatible with the context in which the personal information was collected, which shall comply with the requirements set forth in subsection (c).
- (b) The purpose(s) for which the personal information was collected or processed shall be consistent with the reasonable expectations of the consumer(s) whose personal information is collected or processed. The consumer's (or consumers') reasonable expectations concerning the purpose for which their personal information will be collected or processed shall be based on the following:
- (1) The relationship between the consumer(s) and the business. For example, if the consumer is intentionally interacting with the business on its website to purchase a good or service, the consumer likely expects that the purpose for collecting or processing the personal information is to provide that good or service. By contrast, for example, the consumer of a business's mobile flashlight application would not expect the business to collect the consumer's geolocation information to provide the flashlight service.
 - (2) The type, nature, and amount of personal information that the business seeks to collect or process. For example, if a business's mobile communication application requests access to the consumer's contact list in order to call a specific individual, the consumer who is providing their contact list likely expects that the purpose of the business's use of that contact list will be to connect the consumer with the specific contact they selected. Similarly, if a business collects the consumer's fingerprint in connection with setting up the security feature of unlocking the device using the fingerprint, the consumer likely expects that the business's use of the consumer's fingerprint is only for the purpose of unlocking their mobile device.
 - (3) The source of the personal information and the business's method for collecting or processing it. For example, if the consumer is providing their personal information directly to the business while using the business's product or service, the consumer likely expects that the business will use the personal information to provide that product or service. However, the consumer may not expect that the business will use that same personal information for a different product or service offered by the business or the business's subsidiary.
 - (4) The specificity, explicitness, prominence, and clarity of disclosures to the consumer(s) about the purpose for collecting or processing their personal information, such as in the Notice at Collection and in the marketing materials to the consumer(s) about the business's good or service. For example, the consumer who receives a pop-up notice that the business wants to collect the consumer's phone number to verify their identity when they log in likely expects that the business will use their phone number for the purpose of verifying the consumer's identity and not for marketing purposes. Similarly, the consumer may expect that a mobile application that markets itself as a service that finds gas prices near the consumer's location will collect and use the consumer's geolocation information for that specific purpose when they are using the service.

(5) The degree to which the involvement of service providers, contractors, third parties, or other entities in the collecting or processing of personal information is apparent to the consumer(s). For example, the consumer likely expects an online retailer's disclosure of the consumer's name and address to a delivery service provider in order for that service provider to deliver a purchased product, because that service provider's involvement is apparent to the consumer. By contrast, the consumer may not expect the disclosure of personal information to a service provider if the consumer is not directly interacting with the service provider or the service provider's role in the processing is not apparent to the consumer.

(c) Whether another disclosed purpose is compatible with the context in which the personal information was collected shall be based on the following:

(1) At the time of collection of the personal information, the reasonable expectations of the consumer(s) whose personal information is collected or processed concerning the purpose for which their personal information will be collected or processed, based on the factors set forth in subsection (b).

(2) The other disclosed purpose for which the business seeks to further collect or process the consumer's personal information, including whether it is a business purpose listed in Civil Code section 1798.140, subdivisions (e)(1) through (e)(8).

(3) The strength of the link between subsection (c)(1) and subsection (c)(2). For example, a strong link exists between the consumer's reasonable expectations that the personal information will be used to provide them with a requested service at the time of collection, and the use of the information to repair errors that impair the intended functionality of that requested service. This would weigh in favor of compatibility. By contrast, for example, a weak link exists between the consumer's reasonable expectations that the personal information will be collected to provide a requested cloud storage service at the time of collection, and the use of the information to research and develop an unrelated facial recognition service.

(d) For each purpose identified in compliance with subsection (a)(1) or (a)(2), the collection, use, retention, and/or sharing of a consumer's personal information to achieve that purpose shall be reasonably necessary and proportionate. The business's collection, use, retention, and/or sharing of a consumer's personal information shall also be reasonably necessary and proportionate to achieve any purpose for which the business obtains the consumer's consent in compliance with subsection (e). Whether a business's collection, use, retention, and/or sharing of a consumer's personal information is reasonably necessary and proportionate to achieve the purpose identified in compliance with subsection (a)(1) or (a)(2), or any purpose for which the business obtains consent, shall be based on the following:

(1) The minimum personal information that is necessary to achieve the purpose identified in compliance with subsection (a)(1) or (a)(2), or any purpose for which the business obtains consent. For example, to complete an online purchase and send an email confirmation of the purchase to the consumer, an online retailer may need the consumer's order information, payment and shipping information, and email address.

(2) The possible negative impacts on consumers posed by the business's collection or processing of the personal information. For example, a possible negative impact of collecting precise geolocation information is that it may reveal other sensitive personal information about the consumer, such as health information based on visits to healthcare providers.

(3) The existence of additional safeguards for the personal information to specifically address the possible negative impacts on consumers considered by the business in subsection (d)(2). For example, a business may consider encryption or automatic deletion of personal information within a specific window of time as potential safeguards.

(e) A business shall obtain the consumer's consent in accordance with section 7004 before collecting or processing personal information for any purpose that does not meet the requirements set forth in subsection (a).

(f) A business shall not collect categories of personal information other than those disclosed in its Notice at Collection in accordance with the CCPA and section 7012. If the business intends to collect additional categories of personal information or intends to use the personal information for additional purposes that are incompatible with the disclosed purpose for which the personal information was collected, the business shall provide a new Notice at Collection. However, any additional collecting or processing of personal information shall comply with subsection (a).

Note: Authority cited: Section 1798.185, Civil Code. Reference: Sections 1798.100, 1798.106, 1798.121, 1798.130, 1798.135 and 1798.185, Civil Code.

§ 7003. Requirements for Disclosures and Communications to Consumers.

(a) Disclosures and communications to consumers shall be easy to read and understandable to consumers. For example, they shall use plain, straightforward language and avoid technical or legal jargon.

(b) Disclosures required under Article 2 shall also:

(1) Use a format that makes the disclosure readable, including on smaller screens, if applicable.

(2) Be available in the languages in which the business in its ordinary course provides contracts, disclaimers, sale announcements, and other information to consumers in California.

(3) Be reasonably accessible to consumers with disabilities. For notices provided online, the business shall follow generally recognized industry standards, such as the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines, version 2.1 of June 5, 2018, from the World Wide Web Consortium, incorporated herein by reference. In other contexts, the business shall provide information on how a consumer with a disability may access the policy in an alternative format.

- (c) For websites, a conspicuous link required under the CCPA or these regulations shall appear in a similar manner as other similarly-posted links used by the business on its homepage(s). For example, the business shall use a font size and color that is at least the approximate size or color as other links next to it that are used by the business on its homepage(s).
- (d) For mobile applications, a conspicuous link shall be included in the business’s privacy policy, which must be accessible through the mobile application’s platform page or download page. It may also be accessible through a link within the application, such as through the application’s settings menu.

Note: Authority cited: Section 1798.185, Civil Code. Reference: Sections 1798.100, 1798.105, 1798.106, 1798.110, 1798.115, 1798.120, 1798.121, 1798.125, 1798.130 and 1798.135, Civil Code.

§ 7004. Requirements for Methods for Submitting CCPA Requests and Obtaining Consumer Consent.

- (a) Except as expressly allowed by the CCPA and these regulations, businesses shall design and implement methods for submitting CCPA requests and obtaining consumer consent that incorporate the following principles:
 - (1) Easy to understand. The methods shall use language that is easy for consumers to read and understand. When applicable, they shall comply with the requirements for disclosures to consumers set forth in section 7003.
 - (2) Symmetry in choice. The path for a consumer to exercise a more privacy-protective option shall not be longer or more difficult or time-consuming than the path to exercise a less privacy-protective option because that would impair or interfere with the consumer’s ability to make a choice. Illustrative examples follow.
 - (A) It is not symmetrical when a business’s process for submitting a request to opt-out of sale/sharing requires more steps than that business’s process for a consumer to opt-in to the sale of personal information after having previously opted out. The number of steps for submitting a request to opt-out of sale/sharing is measured from when the consumer clicks on the “Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information” link to completion of the request. The number of steps for submitting a request to opt-in to the sale of personal information is measured from the first indication by the consumer to the business of their interest to opt-in to completion of the request.
 - (B) A choice to opt-in to the sale of personal information that provides only the two options, “Yes” and “Ask me later,” is not equal or symmetrical because there is no option to decline the opt-in. “Ask me later” implies that the consumer has not declined but delayed the decision and that the business will continue to ask the consumer to opt-in. Framing the consumer’s options in this manner impairs the consumer’s ability to make a choice. An equal or symmetrical choice could be between “Yes” and “No.”

- (C) A website banner that provides only the two options, “Accept All” and “More Information,” or, “Accept All” and “Preferences,” when seeking the consumer’s consent to use their personal information is not equal or symmetrical because the method allows the consumer to “Accept All” in one step, but requires the consumer to take additional steps to exercise their rights over their personal information. Framing the consumer’s options in this manner impairs the consumer’s ability to make a choice. An equal or symmetrical choice could be between “Accept All” and “Decline All.”
- (3) Avoid language or interactive elements that are confusing to the consumer. The methods should not use double negatives. Toggles or buttons must clearly indicate the consumer’s choice. Illustrative examples follow.
- (A) Giving the choice of “Yes” or “No” next to the statement “Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information” is a double negative and a confusing choice for a consumer.
- (B) Toggles or buttons that state “on” or “off” may be confusing to a consumer and may require further clarifying language.
- (C) Unintuitive placement of buttons to confirm a consumer’s choice may be confusing to the consumer. For example, it is confusing to the consumer when a business at first consistently offers choices in the order of “Yes,” then “No,” but then offers choices in the opposite order—“No,” then “Yes”—when asking the consumer something that would contravene the consumer’s expectation.
- (4) Avoid choice architecture that impairs or interferes with the consumer’s ability to make a choice. Businesses should also not design their methods in a manner that would impair the consumer’s ability to exercise their choice because consent must be freely given, specific, informed, and unambiguous. Illustrative examples follow.
- (A) Requiring the consumer to click through disruptive screens before they are able to submit a request to opt-out of sale/sharing is a choice architecture that impairs or interferes with the consumer’s ability to exercise their choice.
- (B) Bundling choices so that the consumer is only offered the option to consent to using personal information for purposes that meet the requirements set forth in section 7002, subsection (a), together with purposes that are incompatible with the context in which the personal information was collected is a choice architecture that impairs or interferes with the consumer’s ability to make a choice. For example, a business that provides a location-based service, such as a mobile application that finds gas prices near the consumer’s location, shall not require the consumer to consent to incompatible uses (e.g., sale of the consumer’s geolocation to data brokers) together with a reasonably necessary and proportionate use of geolocation information for providing the location-based services, which does not require consent. This type of choice architecture does not allow consent to be freely given, specific, informed, or unambiguous because it requires the consumer to consent to incompatible uses in order to obtain the expected service. The business should provide the consumer a separate option to consent to the business's use of personal information that does not meet the requirements set forth in section 7002, subsection (a).

(5) Easy to execute. The business shall not add unnecessary burden or friction to the process by which the consumer submits a CCPA request. Methods should be tested to ensure that they are functional and do not undermine the consumer's choice to submit the request. Illustrative examples follow.

(A) Upon clicking the "Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information" link, the business shall not require the consumer to search or scroll through the text of a privacy policy or similar document or webpage to locate the mechanism for submitting a request to opt-out of sale/sharing.

(B) A business that knows of, but does not remedy, circular or broken links, or nonfunctional email addresses, such as inboxes that are not monitored or have aggressive filters that screen emails from the public, may be in violation of this regulation.

(C) Businesses that require the consumer to unnecessarily wait on a webpage as the business processes the request may be in violation of this regulation.

(b) A method that does not comply with subsection (a) may be considered a dark pattern. Any agreement obtained through the use of dark patterns shall not constitute consumer consent. For example, a business that uses dark patterns to obtain consent from a consumer to sell their personal information shall be in the position of never having obtained the consumer's consent to do so.

(c) A user interface is a dark pattern if the interface has the effect of substantially subverting or impairing user autonomy, decisionmaking, or choice. A business's intent in designing the interface is not determinative in whether the user interface is a dark pattern, but a factor to be considered. If a business did not intend to design the user interface to subvert or impair user choice, but the business knows of and does not remedy a user interface that has that effect, the user interface may still be a dark pattern. Similarly, a business's deliberate ignorance of the effect of its user interface may also weigh in favor of establishing a dark pattern.

- (a) The purpose of the Alternative Opt-out Link is to provide businesses the option of providing consumers with a single, clearly-labeled link that allows consumers to easily exercise both their right to opt-out of sale/sharing and right to limit, instead of posting the two separate “Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information” and “Limit the Use of My Sensitive Personal Information” links. The link shall be a conspicuous link that complies with section 7003, subsections (c) and (d), and is located at either the header or footer of the business’s internet homepage(s). (d) (b)—A business shall include the following in its ~~n~~Notice of ~~f~~Financial ~~i~~Incentive:

- (1) A succinct summary of the financial incentive or price or service difference offered;

If necessary, businesses may take up to an additional 45 calendar days to respond to the consumer's request, for a maximum total of 90 calendar days from the day the request is received, provided that the business provides the consumer with notice and an explanation of the reason that the business will take more than 45 days to respond to the request.

- (b) A business shall comply with a consumer's request to delete their personal information by:

 - (2) Notifying the business's service providers or contractors of the need to delete from their records the consumer's personal information that they collected pursuant to their written contract with the business, or if enabled to do so by the service provider or contractor, the business shall delete the personal information that the service provider or contractor collected pursuant to their written contract with the business; and
 - (3) Notifying all third parties to whom the business has sold or shared the personal information of the need to delete the consumer's personal information unless this proves impossible or involves disproportionate effort. If a business claims that notifying some or all third parties would be impossible or would involve disproportionate effort, the business shall provide the consumer a detailed explanation that includes enough facts to give a consumer a meaningful understanding as to why the business cannot notify all third parties. The business shall not simply state that notifying all third parties is impossible or would require disproportionate effort.
- (c) A service provider or contractor shall, with respect to personal information that they collected pursuant to their written contract with the business and upon notification by the business, cooperate with the business in responding to a request to delete by doing all of the following:

- (e) ~~(d)~~ In responding to a request to delete, a business shall inform the consumer whether ~~or not~~ it has complied with the consumer's request. ~~(e) If the business complies with the consumer's request, t~~ The business shall also inform the consumer that it will maintain a record of the request as required by section 7030-7101, subsection ~~(b)~~(a). - (g) If a business that denies a consumer's request to delete sells or shares personal information and the consumer has not already made a request to opt-out of sale/sharing, the business shall ask the consumer if they would like to opt-out of the sale or sharing of their personal information and shall include either the contents of, or a link to, the ~~n~~Notice of ~~r~~Right to ~~e~~Opt-out of Sale/Sharing in accordance with section 7013.
- (h) In responding to a request to delete, a business may present the consumer with the choice to delete select portions of their personal information as long as only if a global a single option to delete all personal information is also offered ~~and more prominently presented than the other choices~~. A business that provides consumers the ability to delete select categories of personal information in other contexts (e.g., purchase history, browsing history, voice recordings), however, must inform consumers of their ability to do so and direct them to how they can do so. For example, a business may provide the consumer with a link to a support page or other resource that explains consumers' data deletion options.

§ 7023. Requests to Correct.

- (a) For requests to correct, if a business cannot verify the identity of the requestor pursuant to the regulations set forth in Article 5, the business may deny the request to correct. The business shall inform the requestor that their identity cannot be verified.
- (b) In determining the accuracy of the personal information that is the subject of a consumer's request to correct, the business shall consider the totality of the circumstances relating to the contested personal information. A business may deny a consumer's request to correct if it determines that the contested personal information is more likely than not accurate based on the totality of the circumstances.

 - (1) Considering the totality of the circumstances includes, but is not limited to, considering:

 - (A) The nature of the personal information (e.g., whether it is objective, subjective, unstructured, sensitive, etc.).
 - (B) How the business obtained the contested information.
 - (C) Documentation relating to the accuracy of the information whether provided by the consumer, the business, or another source. Requirements regarding documentation are set forth in subsection (d).
 - (2) If the business is not the source of the personal information and has no documentation in support of the accuracy of the information, the consumer's assertion of inaccuracy may be sufficient to establish that the personal information is inaccurate.
- (c) A business that complies with a consumer's request to correct shall correct the personal information at issue on its existing systems. The business shall also instruct all service providers and contractors that maintain the personal information at issue pursuant to their written contract with the business to make the necessary corrections in their respective systems. Service providers and contractors shall comply with the business's instructions to correct the personal information or enable the business to make the corrections. If a business, service provider, or contractor stores any personal information that is the subject of the request to correct on archived or backup systems, it may delay compliance with the consumer's request to correct, with respect to data stored on the archived or backup system, until the archived or backup system relating to that data is restored to an active system or is next accessed or used.
- (d) Documentation.

- (1) A business shall accept, review, and consider any documentation that the consumer provides in connection with their right to correct whether provided voluntarily or as required by the business. Consumers should make a good-faith effort to provide businesses with all necessary information available at the time of the request.
- (2) A business may require the consumer to provide documentation if necessary to rebut its own documentation that the personal information is accurate. In determining the necessity of the documentation requested, the business shall consider the following:
 - (A) The nature of the personal information at issue (e.g., whether it is objective, subjective, unstructured, sensitive, etc.).
 - (B) The nature of the documentation upon which the business considers the personal information to be accurate (e.g., whether the documentation is from a trusted source, whether the documentation is verifiable, etc.)
 - (C) The purpose for which the business collects, maintains, or uses the personal information. For example, if the personal information is essential to the functioning of the business, the business may require more documentation.
 - (D) The impact on the consumer. For example, if the personal information has a negative impact on the consumer, the business may require less documentation.
- (3) Any documentation provided by the consumer in connection with their request to correct shall only be used and/or maintained by the business for the purpose of correcting the consumer's personal information and to comply with the record-keeping obligations under section 7101.
- (4) The business shall implement and maintain reasonable security procedures and practices in maintaining any documentation relating to the consumer's request to correct.
- (e) A business may delete the contested personal information as an alternative to correcting the information if the deletion of the personal information does not negatively impact the consumer, or the consumer consents to the deletion. For example, if deleting instead of correcting inaccurate personal information would make it harder for the consumer to obtain a job, housing, credit, education, or other type of opportunity, the business shall process the request to correct or obtain the consumer's consent to delete the information.
- (f) In responding to a request to correct, a business shall inform the consumer whether it has complied with the consumer's request. If the business denies a consumer's request to correct in whole or in part, the business shall do the following:
 - (1) Explain the basis for the denial, including any conflict with federal or state law, exception to the CCPA, inadequacy in the required documentation, or contention that compliance proves impossible or involves disproportionate effort.
 - (2) If a business claims that complying with the consumer's request to correct would be impossible or would involve disproportionate effort, the business shall provide the consumer a detailed explanation that includes enough facts to give a consumer a meaningful understanding as to why the business cannot comply with the request. The business shall not simply state that it is impossible or would require disproportionate effort.

- (3) If a business denies a consumer's request to correct personal information collected and analyzed concerning a consumer's health, the business shall also inform the consumer that they may provide a written statement to the business to be made part of the consumer's record pursuant to Civil Code section 1798.185, subdivision (a)(8)(D). The business shall explain to the consumer that the written statement is limited to 250 words per alleged inaccurate piece of personal information and shall include that the consumer must request that the statement be made part of the consumer's record. Upon receipt of such a statement, the business shall include it with the consumer's record.
- (4) If the personal information at issue can be deleted pursuant to a request to delete, inform the consumer that they can make a request to delete the personal information and provide instructions on how the consumer can make a request to delete.
- (g) A business may deny a consumer's request to correct if the business has denied the consumer's request to correct the same alleged inaccuracy within the past six months of receiving the request. However, the business must treat the request to correct as new if the consumer provides new or additional documentation to prove that the information at issue is inaccurate.
- (h) A business may deny a request to correct if it has a good-faith, reasonable, and documented belief that a request to correct is fraudulent or abusive. The business shall inform the requestor that it will not comply with the request and shall provide an explanation why it believes the request is fraudulent or abusive.
- (i) Where the business is not the source of the information that the consumer contends is inaccurate, in addition to processing the consumer's request, the business may provide the consumer with the name of the source from which the business received the alleged inaccurate information.
- (j) Upon request, a business shall disclose specific pieces of personal information that the business maintains and has collected about the consumer to allow the consumer to confirm that the business has corrected the inaccurate information that was the subject of the consumer's request to correct. This disclosure shall not be considered a response to a request to know that is counted towards the limitation of two requests within a 12-month period as set forth in Civil Code section 1798.130, subdivision (b). With regard to a correction to a consumer's Social Security number, driver's license number or other government-issued identification number, financial account number, any health insurance or medical identification number, an account password, security questions and answers, or unique biometric data generated from measurements or technical analysis of human characteristics, a business shall not disclose this information, but may provide a way to confirm that the personal information it maintains is the same as what the consumer has provided.

(k) Whether a business, service provider, or contractor has implemented measures to ensure that personal information that is the subject of a request to correct remains corrected factors into whether that business, service provider, or contractor has complied with a consumer's request to correct in accordance with the CCPA and these regulations. For example, a business, service provider, or contractor may supplement personal information it maintains about consumers with information obtained from a data broker. Failing to consider and address the possibility that corrected information may be overridden by inaccurate information subsequently received from a data broker may factor into whether that business, service provider, or contractor has adequately complied with a consumer's request to correct.

§ 7024. Requests to Know.

- (a) For requests that seek the disclosure of specific pieces of information about the consumer, if a business cannot verify the identity of the person making the request pursuant to the regulations set forth in Article 5, the business shall not disclose any specific pieces of personal information to the requestor and shall inform the requestor that it cannot verify their identity. If the request is denied in whole or in part, the business shall also evaluate the consumer's request as if it is seeking the disclosure of categories of personal information about the consumer pursuant to subsection (b).
- (b) For requests that seek the disclosure of categories of personal information about the consumer, if a business cannot verify the identity of the person making the request pursuant to the regulations set forth in Article 5, the business may deny the request to disclose the categories and other information requested and shall inform the requestor that it cannot verify their identity. If the request is denied in whole or in part, the business shall provide or direct the consumer to its ~~general business information~~ practices ~~regarding the collection, maintenance, and sale of personal information~~ set forth in its privacy policy.
- (c) In responding to a request to know, a business is not required to search for personal information if all of the following conditions are met:
 - (1) The business does not maintain the personal information in a searchable or reasonably accessible format;
 - (2) The business maintains the personal information solely for legal or compliance purposes;
 - (3) The business does not sell the personal information and does not use it for any commercial purpose; ~~and~~
 - (4) The business describes to the consumer the categories of records that may contain personal information that it did not search because it meets the conditions stated above.

- (d) A business shall not disclose in response to a request to know a consumer’s Social Security number, driver’s license number or other government-issued identification number, financial account number, any health insurance or medical identification number, an account password, security questions and answers, or unique biometric data generated from measurements or technical analysis of human characteristics. The business shall, however, inform the consumer with sufficient particularity that it has collected the type of information. For example, a business shall respond that it collects “unique biometric data including a fingerprint scan” without disclosing the actual fingerprint scan data.
- (e) If a business denies a consumer’s verified request to know specific pieces of personal information, in whole or in part, because of a conflict with federal or state law, or an exception to the CCPA, the business shall inform the requestor and explain the basis for the denial, unless prohibited from doing so by law. If the request is denied only in part, the business shall disclose the other information sought by the consumer.
- (f) A business shall use reasonable security measures when transmitting personal information to the consumer.
- (g) If a business maintains a password-protected account with the consumer, it may comply with a request to know by using a secure self-service portal for consumers to access, view, and receive a portable copy of their personal information if the portal fully discloses the personal information that the consumer is entitled to under the CCPA and these regulations, uses reasonable data security controls, and complies with the verification requirements set forth in Article 5.
- (h) In response to a request to know, a business shall provide all the personal information it has collected and maintains about the consumer during the 12-month period preceding the business’s receipt of the consumer’s request. A consumer may request that the business provide personal information that the business collected beyond the 12-month period, as long as it was collected on or after January 1, 2022, and the business shall be required to provide that information unless doing so proves impossible or would involve disproportionate effort. That information shall include any personal information that the business’s service providers or contractors collected pursuant to their written contract with the business. If a business claims that providing personal information beyond the 12-month period preceding the business’s receipt of the consumer’s request would be impossible or would involve disproportionate effort, the business shall not be required to provide it as long as the business provides the consumer a detailed explanation that includes enough facts to give a consumer a meaningful understanding as to why the business cannot provide personal information beyond the 12-month period. The business shall not simply state that it is impossible or would require disproportionate effort. ~~Unless otherwise specified by the business to cover a longer period of time, the 12-month period covered by a consumer’s verifiable request to know referenced in Civil Code section 1798.130, subdivision (a)(2), shall run from the date the business receives the request, regardless of the time required to verify the request.~~

(i) A service provider or contractor shall provide assistance to the business in responding to a verifiable consumer request to know, including by providing the business the consumer's personal information it has in its possession that it collected pursuant to their written contract with the business, or by enabling the business to access that personal information.

(j) ~~(j)~~ In responding to a consumer's verified request to know categories of personal information, categories of sources, and/or categories of third parties, a business shall provide an individualized response to the consumer as required by the CCPA. It shall not refer the consumer to the businesses' ~~general~~ information practices outlined in its privacy policy unless its response would be the same for all consumers and the privacy policy discloses all the information that is otherwise required to be in a response to a request to know such categories.

(k) ~~(j)~~ In responding to a verified request to know categories of personal information, the business shall provide all of the following:

- (1) The categories of personal information the business has collected about the consumer ~~in the preceding 12 months;~~
- (2) The categories of sources from which the personal information was collected;
- (3) The business or commercial purpose for which it collected or sold the personal information;
- (4) The categories of third parties with whom the business shares personal information;
- (5) The categories of personal information that the business sold ~~in the preceding 12 months~~, and for each category identified, the categories of third parties to whom it sold that particular category of personal information; ~~and~~
- (6) The categories of personal information that the business disclosed for a business purpose ~~in the preceding 12 months~~, and for each category identified, the categories of third parties to whom it disclosed that particular category of personal information.

(l) ~~(k)~~ A business shall identify the categories of personal information, categories of sources of personal information, and categories of third parties to whom a business sold or disclosed personal information, in a manner that provides consumers a meaningful understanding of the categories listed.

§ 7025. Opt-out Preference Signals.

(a) The purpose of an opt-out preference signal is to provide consumers with a simple and easy-to-use method by which consumers interacting with businesses online can automatically exercise their right to opt-out of sale/sharing. Through an opt-out preference signal, a consumer can opt-out of sale and sharing of their personal information with all businesses they interact with online without having to make individualized requests with each business.

(b) A business that sells or shares personal information shall process any opt-out preference signal that meets the following requirements as a valid request to opt-out of sale/sharing:

(1) The signal shall be in a format commonly used and recognized by businesses. An example would be an HTTP header field or JavaScript object.

(2) The platform, technology, or mechanism that sends the opt-out preference signal shall make clear to the consumer, whether in its configuration or in disclosures to the public, that the use of the signal is meant to have the effect of opting the consumer out of the sale and sharing of their personal information. The configuration or disclosure does not need to be tailored only to California or to refer to California.

(c) When a business that collects personal information from consumers online receives or detects an opt-out preference signal that complies with subsection (b):

(1) The business shall treat the opt-out preference signal as a valid request to opt-out of sale/sharing submitted pursuant to Civil Code section 1798.120 for that browser or device and any consumer profile associated with that browser or device, including pseudonymous profiles. If known, the business shall also treat the opt-out preference signal as a valid request to opt-out of sale/sharing for the consumer. This is not required for a business that does not sell or share personal information.

(2) The business shall not require a consumer to provide additional information beyond what is necessary to send the signal. However, a business may provide the consumer with an option to provide additional information if it will help facilitate the consumer's request to opt-out of sale/sharing. Any information provided by the consumer shall not be used, disclosed, or retained for any purpose other than processing the request to opt-out of sale/sharing. For example, a business may give the consumer the option to provide information that identifies the consumer so that the request to opt-out of sale/sharing can apply to offline sale or sharing of personal information. However, if the consumer does not respond, the business shall still process the opt-out preference signal as a valid request to opt-out of sale/sharing for that browser or device and any consumer profile the business associates with that browser or device, including pseudonymous profiles.

(3) If the opt-out preference signal conflicts with a consumer's business-specific privacy setting that allows the business to sell or share their personal information, the business shall process the opt-out preference signal as a valid request to opt-out of sale/sharing, but may notify the consumer of the conflict and provide the consumer with an opportunity to consent to the sale or sharing of their personal information. The business shall comply with section 7004 in obtaining the consumer's consent to the sale or sharing of their personal information. If the consumer consents to the sale or sharing of their personal information, the business may ignore the opt-out preference signal for as long as the consumer is known to the business.

(4) If the opt-out preference signal conflicts with the consumer's participation in a business's financial incentive program that requires the consumer to consent to the sale or sharing of personal information, the business may notify the consumer that processing the opt-out preference signal as a valid request to opt-out of sale/sharing would withdraw the consumer from the financial incentive program and ask the consumer to affirm that they intend to withdraw from the financial incentive program. If the consumer affirms that they intend to withdraw from the financial incentive program, the business shall process the consumer's request to opt-out of sale/sharing. If the business asks and the consumer does not affirm their intent to withdraw, the business may ignore the opt-out preference signal with respect to that consumer's participation in the financial incentive program for as long as the consumer is known to the business. If the business does not ask the consumer to affirm their intent with regard to the financial incentive program, the business shall still process the opt-out preference signal as a valid request to opt-out of sale/sharing for that browser or device and any consumer profile the business associates with that browser or device.

(5) Where the consumer is known to the business, the business shall not interpret the absence of an opt-out preference signal after the consumer previously sent an opt-out preference signal as consent to opt-in to the sale or sharing of personal information.

(6) A business may display whether it has processed the consumer's opt-out preference signal as a valid request to opt-out of sale/sharing on its website. For example, the business may display on its website "Opt-Out Preference Signal Honored" when a browser, device, or consumer using an opt-out preference signal visits the website, or display through a toggle or radio button that the consumer has opted out of the sale of their personal information.

(7) Illustrative examples follow.

(A) Caleb visits Business N's website using a browser with an opt-out preference signal enabled, but he is not otherwise logged into his account and the business cannot otherwise associate Caleb's browser with a consumer profile the business maintains. Business N collects and shares Caleb's personal information tied to his browser identifier for cross-context behavioral advertising. Upon receiving the opt-out preference signal, Business N shall stop selling and sharing Caleb's information linked to Caleb's browser identifier for cross-context behavioral advertising, but it would not be able to apply the request to opt-out of the sale/sharing to Caleb's account information because the connection between Caleb's browser and Caleb's account is not known to the business.

(B) Noelle has an account with Business O, an online retailer who manages consumer's privacy choices through a settings menu. Noelle's privacy settings default to allowing Business O to sell and share her personal information with the business's marketing partners. Noelle enables an opt-out preference signal on her browser and then visits Business O's website. Business O recognizes that Noelle is visiting its website because she is logged into her account. Upon receiving Noelle's opt-out preference signal, Business O shall treat the signal as a valid request to opt-out of sale/sharing and shall apply it to her device and/or browser and also to her account and any offline sale or sharing of personal information. Business O may inform Noelle that her opt-out preference signal differs from her current privacy settings and provide her with an opportunity to consent to the sale or sharing of her personal information, but it must process the request to opt-out of sale/sharing unless Noelle instructs otherwise. Business O must also wait at least 12 months before asking Noelle to opt-in to the sale or sharing of her personal information in accordance with section 7026, subsection (k). In addition, Business O's notification would not allow it to fall within the exception set forth in Civil Code section 1798.135, subdivision (b)(1), because it would not be complying with the requirements set forth in subsection (f).

(C) Angela also has an account with Business O and has enabled an opt-out preference signal on her browser while logged into her account. Business O applies the opt-out preference signal as a valid request to opt-out of sale/sharing not only to Angela's current browser, but also to Angela's account because she is known to the business while making the request. Angela later logs into her account with Business O using a different device that does not have the opt-out preference signal enabled. Business O shall not interpret the absence of the opt-out preference signal as consent to opt-in to the sale of personal information.

(D) Ramona participates in Business P's financial incentive program where she receives coupons in exchange for allowing the business to pseudonymously track and share her online browsing habits with marketing partners. Ramona enables an opt-out preference signal on her browser and then visits Business P's website. Business P knows that it is Ramona through a cookie that has been placed on her browser, but also detects the opt-out preference signal. Business P may ignore the opt-out preference signal and notify Ramona that her opt-out preference signal conflicts with her participation in the financial incentive program and ask whether she intends to withdraw from the financial incentive program. If Ramona does not affirm her intent to withdraw, Business P may ignore the opt-out preference signal and place Ramona on a whitelist so that Business P does not have to notify Ramona of the conflict again.

(E) Ramona clears her cookies and revisits Business P's website with the opt-out preference signal enabled. Business P no longer knows that it is Ramona visiting its website. Business P shall honor Ramona's opt-out preference signal as it pertains to her browser or device and any consumer profile the business associates with that browser or device.

(d) The business and the platform, technology, or mechanism that sends the opt-out preference signal shall not use, disclose, or retain any personal information collected from the consumer in connection with the sending or processing the request to opt-out of sale/sharing for any purpose other than sending or processing the opt-out preference signal.

(e) Civil Code section 1798.135, subdivisions (b)(1) and (3), provide a business the choice between (1) processing opt-out preference signals and providing the "Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information" and "Limit the Use of My Sensitive Personal Information" links or the Alternative Opt-out Link; or (2) processing opt-out preference signals in a frictionless manner in accordance with these regulations and not having to provide the “Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information” and “Limit the Use of My Sensitive Personal Information” links or the Alternative Opt-out Link. They do not give the business the choice between posting the above-referenced links or honoring opt-out preference signals. Even if the business posts the above-referenced links, the business must still process opt-out preference signals, though it may do so in a non-frictionless manner. If a business processes opt-out preference signals in a frictionless manner in accordance with subsections (f) and (g), then it may, but is not required to, provide the above-referenced links.

(f) Except as allowed by these regulations, processing an opt-out preference signal in a frictionless manner as required by Civil Code section 1798.135, subdivision (b)(1), means that the business shall not:

(1) Charge a fee or require any valuable consideration if the consumer uses an opt-out preference signal.

(2) Change the consumer’s experience with the product or service offered by the business. For example, the consumer who uses an opt-out preference signal shall have the same experience with regard to how the business’s product or service functions compared to a consumer who does not use an opt-out preference signal.

(3) Display a notification, pop-up, text, graphic, animation, sound, video, or any interstitial content in response to the opt-out preference signal. However, a business’s display of whether the consumer visiting their website has opted out of the sale or sharing their personal information shall not be considered a violation of this regulation. The business may also provide a link to a privacy settings page, menu, or similar interface that enables the consumer to consent to the business ignoring the opt-out preference signal with respect to the business’s sale or sharing of the consumer’s personal information provided that it complies with subsections (f)(1) through (3).

(g) A business meeting the requirements of Civil Code section 1798.135, subdivision (b)(1) is not required to post the “Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information” link or the Alternative Opt-out Link if it meets all of the following additional requirements:

(1) Processes the opt-out preference signal in a frictionless manner in accordance with the CCPA and these regulations.

(2) Includes in its privacy policy the following information:

(A) A description of the consumer’s right to opt-out of the sale or sharing of their personal information by the business;

(B) A statement that the business processes opt-out preference signals in a frictionless manner;

(C) Information on how consumers can implement opt-out preference signals for the business to process in frictionless manner; and

(D) Instructions for any other method by which the consumer may submit a request to opt-out of sale/sharing.

(3) Allows the opt-out preference signal to fully effectuate the consumer's request to opt-out of sale/sharing. For example, if the business sells or shares personal information offline and needs to request from the consumer additional information that is not provided by the opt-out preference signal in order to apply the request to opt-out of sale/sharing to offline sales and sharing of personal information, then the business has not fully effectuated the consumer's request to opt-out of sale/sharing. Illustrative examples follow.

(A) Business Q collects consumers' online browsing history and shares it with third parties for cross-context behavioral advertising purposes. Business Q also sells consumers' personal information offline to marketing partners. Business Q cannot fall within the exception set forth in Civil Code section 1798.135, subdivision (b)(1), because a consumer's opt-out preference signal would only apply to Business Q's online sharing of personal information about the consumer's browser or device; the consumer's opt-out preference signal would not apply to Business Q's offline selling of the consumer's information because Business Q could not apply it to the offline selling without additional information provided by the consumer, i.e., the logging into an account.

(B) Business R only sells and shares personal information online for cross-context behavioral advertising purposes. Business R may use the exception set forth in Civil Code section 1798.135, subdivision (b)(1), and not post the "Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information" link because a consumer using an opt-out preference signal would fully effectuate their right to opt-out of the sale or sharing of their personal information.

§ 7026. Requests to Opt-~~O~~ut of Sale/Sharing.

- (a) A business that sells or shares personal information shall provide two or more designated methods for submitting requests to opt-out of sale/sharing, ~~including an interactive form accessible via a clear and conspicuous link titled "Do Not Sell My Personal Information," on the business's website or mobile application. Other acceptable methods for submitting these requests include, but are not limited to, a toll-free phone number, a designated email address, a form submitted in person, a form submitted through the mail, and user-enabled global privacy controls, such as a browser plug-in or privacy setting, device setting, or other mechanism, that communicate or signal the consumer's choice to opt-out of the sale of their personal information.~~ (b) A business shall consider the methods by which it interacts with consumers, the manner in which the business collects the ~~sells~~ personal information that it makes available to third parties, available technology, and ease of use by the consumer when determining which methods consumers may use to submit requests to opt-out of sale/sharing. At least one method offered shall reflect the manner in which the business primarily interacts with the consumer. Illustrative examples follow.

- ~~(1) (e)~~ If a business that collects personal information from consumers online, the business shall, at a minimum, allow consumers to submit requests to opt-out of sale/sharing through an opt-out preference signal and at least one of the following methods: an interactive form accessible via the “Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information” link, the Alternative Opt-out Link, or the business’s privacy policy if the business processes an opt-out preference signal in a frictionless manner. ~~treat user-enabled global privacy controls, such as a browser plug-in or privacy setting, device setting, or other mechanism, that communicate or signal the consumer’s choice to opt-out of the sale of their personal information as a valid request submitted pursuant to Civil Code section 1798.120 for that browser or device, or, if known, for the consumer. (1) Any privacy control developed in accordance with these regulations shall clearly communicate or signal that a consumer intends to opt-out of the sale of personal information. (2) If a global privacy control conflicts with a consumer’s existing business-specific privacy setting or their participation in a business’s financial incentive program, the business shall respect the global privacy control but may notify the consumer of the conflict and give the consumer the choice to confirm the business-specific privacy setting or participation in the financial incentive program.~~
 - (2) A business that interacts with consumers in person and online may provide an in-person method for submitting requests to opt-out of sale/sharing in addition to the opt-out preference signal.
 - (3) Other methods for submitting requests to opt-out of the sale/sharing include, but are not limited to, a toll-free phone number, a designated email address, a form submitted in person, and a form submitted through the mail.
 - (4) A notification or tool regarding cookies, such as a cookie banner or cookie controls, is not by itself an acceptable method for submitting requests to opt-out of sale/sharing because cookies concern the collection of personal information and not the sale or sharing of personal information. An acceptable method for submitting requests to opt-out of sale/sharing must address the sale and sharing of personal information.
- (b) ~~(h)~~ A business’s methods for submitting requests to opt-out of sale/sharing shall be easy for consumers to execute, ~~and~~ shall require minimal steps, and shall comply with section 7004 to allow the consumer to opt-out. A business shall not use a method is designed with the purpose or has the substantial effect of subverting or impairing a consumer’s choice to opt-out. Illustrative examples follow:
- ~~(1) The business’s process for submitting a request to opt-out shall not require more steps than that business’s process for a consumer to opt-in to the sale of personal information after having previously opted-out. The number of steps for submitting a request to opt-out is measured from when the consumer clicks on the “Do Not Sell My Personal Information” link to completion of the request. The number of steps for submitting a request to opt-in to the sale of personal information is measured from the first~~

~~indication by the consumer to the business of their interest to opt-in to completion of the request.~~

- ~~(2) A business shall not use confusing language, such as double negatives (e.g., “Don’t Not Sell My Personal Information”), when providing consumers the choice to opt-out.~~
 - ~~(3) Except as permitted by these regulations, a business shall not require consumers to click through or listen to reasons why they should not submit a request to opt-out before confirming their request.~~
 - ~~(4) The business’s process for submitting a request to opt-out shall not require the consumer to provide personal information that is not necessary to implement the request.~~
 - ~~(5) Upon clicking the “Do Not Sell My Personal Information” link, the business shall not require the consumer to search or scroll through the text of a privacy policy or similar document or webpage to locate the mechanism for submitting a request to opt-out.~~
- (c) A business shall not require a consumer submitting a request to opt-out of sale/sharing to create an account or provide additional information beyond what is necessary to direct the business not to sell or share the consumer’s personal information.
- (d) ~~(g)~~ A business shall not require request to opt-out need not be a verifiable consumer request for a request to opt-out of sale/sharing. A business may ask the consumer for information necessary to complete the request, such as information necessary to identify the consumer whose information shall cease to be sold or shared by the business. However, to the extent that the business can comply with a request to opt-out of sale/sharing without additional information, it shall do so.
- (e) If a business, however, has a good-faith, reasonable, and documented belief that a request to opt-out of sale/sharing is fraudulent, the business may deny the request. The business shall inform the requestor that it will not comply with the request and shall provide to the requestor an explanation why it believes the request is fraudulent.
- (f) ~~(e)~~ A business shall comply with a request to opt-out of sale/sharing by:
- ~~(1) Ceasing to sell to and/or share with third parties the consumer’s personal information as soon as feasibly possible, but no later than 15 business days from the date the business receives the request. Service providers or contractors collecting personal information pursuant to the written contract with the business required by the CCPA and these regulations does not constitute a sale or sharing of personal information. If a business sells a consumer’s personal information to any third parties after the consumer submits their request but before the business complies with that request, it shall notify those third parties that the consumer has exercised their right to opt-out and shall direct those third parties not to sell that consumer’s information.~~
 - (2) Notifying all third parties to whom the business has sold or shared the consumer’s personal information, after the consumer submits the request to opt-out of sale/sharing and before the business complies with that request, that the consumer has made a request to opt-out of sale/sharing and directing them to comply with the consumer's request and forward the request to any other person to whom the third party has made the personal information available during that time period.

- (g) A business may provide a means by which the consumer can confirm that their request to opt-out of sale/sharing has been processed by the business. For example, the business may display on its website "Consumer Opted Out of Sale/Sharing" or display through a toggle or radio button that the consumer has opted out of the sale/sharing of their personal information.
- (h) ~~(d)~~ In responding to a request to opt-out of sale/sharing, a business may present the consumer with the choice to opt-out of the sale or sharing for certain uses of personal information for certain uses as long as a global-single option to opt-out of the sale or sharing of all personal information is also offered more prominently presented than the other choices. However, doing so in response to an opt-out preference signal will prevent the business from using the exception set forth in Civil Code section 1798.135, subdivision (b)(1).
- (i) A business that responds to a request to opt-out of sale/sharing by informing the consumer of a charge for the use of any product or service shall comply with Article 7 and shall provide the consumer with a Notice of Financial Incentive that complies with section 7016 in its response. However, doing so in response to an opt-out preference signal will prevent the business from using the exception set forth in Civil Code section 1798.135, subdivision (b)(1).
- (j) ~~(f)~~ A consumer may use an authorized agent to submit a request to opt-out of sale/sharing on the consumer's behalf if the consumer provides the authorized agent written permission signed by the consumer. A business may deny a request from an authorized agent if the agent cannot does not provide to the business the consumer's signed permission demonstrating that they have been authorized by the consumer to act on the consumer's behalf. The requirement to obtain and provide written permission from the consumer does not apply to requests made by an opt-out preference signal. User-enabled global privacy controls, such as a browser plug-in or privacy setting, device setting, or other mechanism, that communicate or signal the consumer's choice to opt-out of the sale of their personal information shall be considered a request directly from the consumer, not through an authorized agent.
- (k) Except as allowed by these regulations, a business shall wait at least 12 months from the date of the consumer's request before asking a consumer who has opted out of the sale or sharing of their personal information to consent to the sale or sharing of their personal information.

§ 7027. Requests to Limit Use and Disclosure of Sensitive Personal Information.

- (a) The unauthorized use or disclosure of sensitive personal information creates a heightened risk of harm for the consumer. The purpose of the request to limit is to give consumers meaningful control over how their sensitive personal information is collected, used, and disclosed. It gives the consumer the ability to limit the business's use of sensitive personal information to that which is necessary to perform the services or provide the goods reasonably expected by an average consumer who requests those goods or services, with some narrowly tailored exceptions, which are set forth in subsection (m). Sensitive personal information that is collected or processed without the purpose of inferring characteristics about a consumer is not subject to requests to limit.
- (b) A business that uses or discloses sensitive personal information for purposes other than those set forth in subsection (m) shall provide two or more designated methods for submitting requests to limit. A business shall consider the methods by which it interacts with consumers, the manner in which the business collects the sensitive personal information that it uses for purposes other than those set forth in subsection (m), available technology, and ease of use by the consumer when determining which methods consumers may use to submit requests to limit. At least one method offered shall reflect the manner in which the business primarily interacts with the consumer. Illustrative examples follow.
- (1) A business that collects sensitive personal information from consumers online shall, at a minimum, allow consumers to submit requests to limit through an interactive form accessible via the "Limit the Use of My Sensitive Personal Information" link or the Alternative Opt-out Link.
 - (2) A business that interacts with consumers in person and online may provide an in-person method for submitting requests to limit in addition to the online form.
 - (3) Other methods for submitting requests to limit include, but are not limited to, a toll-free phone number, a designated email address, a form submitted in person, and a form submitted through the mail.
 - (4) A notification or tool regarding cookies, such as a cookie banner or cookie controls, is not by itself an acceptable method for submitting requests to limit because cookies concern the collection of personal information and not necessarily the use and disclosure of sensitive personal information. An acceptable method for submitting requests to limit must address the specific right to limit.
- (c) A business's methods for submitting requests to limit shall be easy for consumers to execute, shall require minimal steps, and shall comply with section 7004.
- (d) A business shall not require a consumer submitting a request to limit to create an account or provide additional information beyond what is necessary to direct the business to limit the use or disclosure of the consumer's sensitive personal information.
- (e) A business shall not require a verifiable consumer request for a request to limit. A business may ask the consumer for information necessary to complete the request, such as information necessary to identify the consumer to whom the request should be applied. However, to the extent that the business can comply with a request to limit without additional information, it shall do so.

- (f) If a business has a good-faith, reasonable, and documented belief that a request to limit is fraudulent, the business may deny the request. The business shall inform the requestor that it will not comply with the request and shall provide to the requestor an explanation why it believes the request is fraudulent.
- (g) A business shall comply with a request to limit by:

 - (1) Ceasing to use and disclose the consumer's sensitive personal information for purposes other than those set forth in subsection (m) as soon as feasibly possible, but no later than 15 business days from the date the business receives the request.
 - (2) Notifying all the business's service providers or contractors that use or disclose the consumer's sensitive personal information for purposes other than those set forth in subsection (m) that the consumer has made a request to limit and instructing them to comply with the consumer's request to limit within the same time frame.
 - (3) Notifying all third parties to whom the business has disclosed or made available the consumer's sensitive personal information for purposes other than those set forth in subsection (m), after the consumer submitted their request and before the business complies with that request, that the consumer has made a request to limit and direct them 1) to comply with the consumer's request and 2) to forward the request to any other person with whom the third party has disclosed or shared the sensitive personal information during that time period.
- (h) A business may provide a means by which the consumer can confirm that their request to limit has been processed by the business. For example, the business may display through a toggle or radio button that the consumer has limited the business's use and disclosure of their sensitive personal information.
- (i) In responding to a request to limit, a business may present the consumer with the choice to allow specific uses for the sensitive personal information as long as a single option to limit the use of the personal information is also offered.
- (j) A consumer may use an authorized agent to submit a request to limit on the consumer's behalf if the consumer provides the authorized agent written permission signed by the consumer. A business may deny a request from an authorized agent if the agent does not provide to the business the consumer's signed permission demonstrating that they have been authorized by the consumer to act on the consumer's behalf.
- (k) A business that responds to a request to limit by informing the consumer of a charge for the use of any product or service shall comply with Article 7 and shall provide the consumer with a Notice of Financial Incentive that complies with section 7016 in its response.
- (l) Except as allowed by these regulations, a business shall wait at least 12 months from the date the consumer's request to limit is received before asking a consumer who has exercised their right to limit to consent to the use or disclosure of their sensitive personal information for purposes other than those set forth in subsection (m).

(m) The purposes identified in Civil Code section 1798.121, subdivision (a), for which a business may use or disclose sensitive personal information without being required to offer consumers a right to limit are as follows. A business that only uses or discloses sensitive personal information for these purposes, provided that the use or disclosure is reasonably necessary and proportionate for those purposes, is not required to post a Notice of Right to Limit or provide a method for submitting a request to limit.

- (1) To perform the services or provide the goods reasonably expected by an average consumer who requests those goods or services. For example, a consumer's precise geolocation may be used by a mobile application that is providing the consumer with directions on how to get to a specific location. A consumer's precise geolocation may not, however, be used by a gaming application where the average consumer would not expect the application to need this piece of sensitive personal information.
- (2) To prevent, detect, and investigate security incidents that compromise the availability, authenticity, integrity, or confidentiality of stored or transmitted personal information. For example, a business may disclose a consumer's log-in information to a data security company that it has hired to investigate and remediate a data breach that involved that consumer's account.
- (3) To resist malicious, deceptive, fraudulent, or illegal actions directed at the business and to prosecute those responsible for those actions. For example, a business may use information about a consumer's ethnicity and/or the contents of email and text messages to investigate claims of racial discrimination or hate speech.
- (4) To ensure the physical safety of natural persons. For example, a business may disclose a consumer's geolocation information to law enforcement to investigate an alleged kidnapping.
- (5) For short-term, transient use, including, but not limited to, nonpersonalized advertising shown as part of a consumer's current interaction with the business, provided that the personal information is not disclosed to another third party and is not used to build a profile about the consumer or otherwise alter the consumer's experience outside the current interaction with the business. For example, a business that sells religious books can use information about its customers' interest in its religious content to serve contextual advertising for other kinds of religious merchandise within its store or on its website, so long as the business does not use sensitive personal information to create a profile about an individual consumer or disclose personal information that reveals consumers' religious beliefs to third parties.
- (6) To perform services on behalf of the business. For example, a business may use information for maintaining or servicing accounts, providing customer service, processing or fulfilling orders and transactions, verifying customer information, processing payments, providing financing, providing analytic services, providing storage, or providing similar services on behalf of the business.

(7) To verify or maintain the quality or safety of a product, service, or device that is owned, manufactured, manufactured for, or controlled by the business, and to improve, upgrade, or enhance the service or device that is owned, manufactured by, manufactured for, or controlled by the business. For example, a car rental business may use a consumer's driver's license for the purpose of testing that its internal text recognition software accurately captures license information used in car rental transactions.

(8) To collect or process sensitive personal information where the collection or processing is not for the purpose of inferring characteristics about a consumer. For example, a business that includes a search box on their website by which consumers can search for articles related to their health condition may use the information provided by the consumer for the purpose of providing the search feature without inferring characteristics about the consumer.

§ 7028. Requests to Opt-~~I~~n After Opting-~~O~~ut of the Sale or Sharing of Personal Information.

- (a) Requests to opt-in to ~~the sale~~ or sharing of personal information shall use a two-step opt-in process whereby the consumer shall first, clearly request to opt-in and then second, separately confirm their choice to opt-in.
- (b) If a consumer who has opted-out of the sale or sharing of their personal information initiates a transaction or attempts to use a product or service that requires the sale or sharing of their personal information, ~~a the~~ business may inform the consumer that the transaction, product, or service requires the sale or sharing of their personal information and provide instructions on how the consumer can provide consent to opt-in to the sale or sharing of their personal information. The business shall comply with section 7004 when obtaining the consumer's consent.

~~§ 7031 Requests to Know or Delete Household Information.~~

~~(a) Where a household does not have a password-protected account with a business, a business shall not comply with a request to know specific pieces of personal information about the household or a request to delete household personal information unless all of the following conditions are satisfied:~~

~~(1) All consumers of the household jointly request to know specific pieces of information for the household or the deletion of household personal information;~~

- ~~(2) The business individually verifies all the members of the household subject to the verification requirements set forth in section 7062; and~~
- ~~(3) The business verifies that each member making the request is currently a member of the household.~~
- ~~(b) Where a consumer has a password-protected account with a business that collects personal information about a household, the business may process requests to know and requests to delete relating to household information through the business's existing business practices and in compliance with these regulations.~~
- ~~(c) If a member of a household is a consumer under the age of 13, a business must obtain verifiable parental consent before complying with a request to know specific pieces of information for the household or the deletion of household personal information pursuant to the parental consent provisions in section 7070.~~

ARTICLE 4. SERVICE PROVIDERS, CONTRACTORS, AND THIRD PARTIES

§ 7050. § 7051. Service Providers and Contractors.

- ~~(a) A business that provides services to a person or organization that is not a business, and that would otherwise meet the requirements and obligations of a "service provider" under the CCPA and these regulations, shall be deemed a service provider for purposes of the CCPA and these regulations.~~
- ~~(b) To the extent that a business directs a second entity to collect personal information directly from a consumer, or about a consumer, on the first business's behalf, and the second entity would otherwise meet the requirements and obligations of a "service provider" under the CCPA and these regulations, the second entity shall be deemed a service provider of the first business for purposes of the CCPA and these regulations.~~
- (a) ~~(e)~~ A service provider or contractor shall not retain, use, or disclose personal information collected pursuant to its written contract with the business ~~obtained in the course of providing services~~ except:
 - ~~(1) To process or maintain personal information on behalf of the business that provided the personal information or directed the service provider to collect the personal information~~
 - (1) For the specific business purpose(s) set forth in, and in compliance with the written contract between the business and the service provider or contractor that is for services required by the CCPA and these regulations.;
 - (2) To retain and employ another service provider or contractor as a subcontractor, where the subcontractor meets the requirements for a service provider or contractor under the

CCPA and these regulations.;

- (3) For internal use by the service provider or contractor to build or improve the quality of ~~its~~the services it is providing to the business, even if this business purpose is not specified in the written contract required by the CCPA and these regulations, provided that the service provider or contractor ~~use~~ does not use the personal information to perform services on behalf of another person ~~include building or modifying household or consumer profiles to use in providing services to another business, or correcting or augmenting data acquired from another source;~~ Illustrative examples follow.

(A) An email marketing service provider can send emails on a business's behalf using the business's customer email list. The service provider could analyze those customers' interactions with the marketing emails to improve its services and offer those improved services to everyone. But the service provider cannot use the original email list to send marketing emails on behalf of another business.

(B) A shipping service provider that delivers businesses' products to their customers may use the addresses received from their business clients and their experience delivering to those addresses to identify faulty or incomplete addresses, and thus, improve their delivery services. However, the shipping service provider cannot compile the addresses received from one business to send advertisements on behalf of another business, or compile addresses received from businesses to sell to data brokers.

- (4) To prevent, detect, or investigate data security incidents or protect against malicious, deceptive, fraudulent or illegal activity, even if this business purpose is not specified in the written contract required by the CCPA and these regulations.;

- (5) For the purposes enumerated in Civil Code section 1798.145, subdivisions (a)(1) through (a)(~~7~~4).

(b) A service provider or contractor cannot contract with a business to provide cross-context behavioral advertising. Pursuant to Civil Code section 1798.140, subdivision (e)(6), a service provider or contractor may contract with a business to provide advertising and marketing services, but the service provider or contractor shall not combine the personal information of consumers who have opted-out of the sale/sharing that the service provider or contractor receives from, or on behalf of, the business with personal information that the service provider or contractor receives from, or on behalf of, another person or collects from its own interaction with consumers. A person who contracts with a business to provide cross-context behavioral advertising is a third party and not a service provider or contractor with respect to cross-context behavioral advertising services. Illustrative examples follow.

- (1) Business S, a clothing company, hires a social media company as a service provider for the purpose of providing Business S's advertisements on the social media company's platform. The social media company can serve Business S by providing non-personalized advertising services on its platform based on aggregated or demographic information (e.g., advertisements to women, 18-30 years old, that live in Los Angeles). However, it cannot use a list of customer email addresses provided by Business S to identify users on the social media company's platform to serve advertisements to them.

(2) Business T, a company that sells cookware, hires an advertising company as a service provider for the purpose of advertising its services. The advertising agency can serve Business T by providing contextual advertising services, such as placing advertisements for Business T's products on websites that post recipes and other cooking tips.

~~(d) A service provider shall not sell data on behalf of a business when a consumer has opted out of the sale of their personal information with the business.~~

(c) ~~(e)~~ If a service provider or contractor receives a request to know or a request to delete request made pursuant to the CCPA directly from a the consumer, the service provider or contractor shall either act on behalf of the business in accordance with the business's instructions for responding to the request or inform the consumer that the request cannot be acted upon because the request has been sent to a service provider or contractor.

(d) ~~(f)~~ A service provider or contractor that is a business shall comply with the CCPA and these regulations with regard to any personal information that it collects, maintains, or sells outside of its role as a service provider or contractor.

(e) A person who does not have a contract that complies with section 7051, subsection (a), is not a service provider or a contractor under the CCPA. For example, a business's disclosure of personal information to a person who does not have a contract that complies with section 7051, subsection (a), may be considered a sale or sharing of personal information for which the business must provide the consumer with the right to opt-out of sale/sharing.

(f) A service provider or a contractor shall comply with the terms of the contract required by the CCPA and these regulations.

(g) Whether an entity that provides services to a nonbusiness must comply with a consumer's CCPA request depends upon whether the entity is a "business," as defined by Civil Code section 1798.140, subdivision (d).

§ 7051. Contract Requirements for Service Providers and Contractors.

(a) The contract required by the CCPA for service providers and contractors shall:

(1) Prohibit the service provider or contractor from selling or sharing personal information it collects pursuant to the written contract with the business.

(2) Identify the specific business purpose(s) for which the service provider or contractor is processing personal information pursuant to the written contract with the business, and specify that the business is disclosing the personal information to the service provider or contractor only for the limited and specified business purpose(s) set forth within the contract. The business purpose(s) shall not be described in generic terms, such as referencing the entire contract generally. The description shall be specific.

- (3) Prohibit the service provider or contractor from retaining, using, or disclosing the personal information that it collected pursuant to the written contract with the business for any purpose other than the business purpose(s) specified in the contract or as otherwise permitted by the CCPA and these regulations.
- (4) Prohibit the service provider or contractor from retaining, using, or disclosing the personal information that it collected pursuant to the written contract with the business for any commercial purpose other than the business purpose(s) specified in the contract, unless expressly permitted by the CCPA or these regulations.
- (5) Prohibit the service provider or contractor from retaining, using, or disclosing the personal information that it collected pursuant to the written contract with the business outside the direct business relationship between the service provider or contractor and the business, unless expressly permitted by the CCPA or these regulations. For example, a service provider or contractor shall be prohibited from combining or updating personal information that it collected pursuant to the written contract with the business with personal information that it received from another source or collected from its own interaction with the consumer, unless expressly permitted by the CCPA or these regulations.
- (6) Require the service provider or contractor to comply with all applicable sections of the CCPA and these regulations, including—with respect to the personal information that it collected pursuant to the written contract with the business—providing the same level of privacy protection as required of businesses by the CCPA and these regulations. For example, the contract may require the service provider or contractor to cooperate with the business in responding to and complying with consumers’ requests made pursuant to the CCPA, and to implement reasonable security procedures and practices appropriate to the nature of the personal information to protect the personal information from unauthorized or illegal access, destruction, use, modification, or disclosure in accordance with Civil Code section 1798.81.5.
- (7) Grant the business the right to take reasonable and appropriate steps to ensure that the service provider or contractor uses the personal information that it collected pursuant to the written contract with the business in a manner consistent with the business’s obligations under the CCPA and these regulations. Reasonable and appropriate steps may include ongoing manual reviews and automated scans of the service provider’s system and regular internal or third-party assessments, audits, or other technical and operational testing at least once every 12 months.
- (8) Require the service provider or contractor to notify the business after it makes a determination that it can no longer meet its obligations under the CCPA and these regulations.

- (9) Grant the business the right, upon notice, to take reasonable and appropriate steps to stop and remediate the service provider or contractor's unauthorized use of personal information. For example, the business may require the service provider or contractor to provide documentation that verifies that they no longer retain or use the personal information of consumers that have made a valid request to delete with the business.
- (10) Require the service provider or contractor to enable the business to comply with consumer requests made pursuant to the CCPA or require the business to inform the service provider or contractor of any consumer request made pursuant to the CCPA that they must comply with and provide the information necessary for the service provider or contractor to comply with the request.
- (b) A service provider or contractor that subcontracts with another person in providing services to the business for whom it is a service provider or contractor shall have a contract with the subcontractor that complies with the CCPA and these regulations, including subsection (a).
- (c) Whether a business conducts due diligence of its service providers and contractors factors into whether the business has reason to believe that a service provider or contractor is using personal information in violation of the CCPA and these regulations. For example, depending on the circumstances, a business that never enforces the terms of the contract nor exercises its rights to audit or test the service provider's or contractor's systems might not be able to rely on the defense that it did not have reason to believe that the service provider or contractor intends to use the personal information in violation of the CCPA and these regulations at the time the business disclosed the personal information to the service provider or contractor.

§ 7052. Third Parties.

- (a) A third party that does not have a contract that complies with section 7053, subsection (a), shall not collect, use, process, retain, sell, or share the personal information that the business made available to it.
- (b) A third party shall comply with the terms of the contract required by the CCPA and these regulations, which include treating the personal information that the business made available to it in a manner consistent with the business's obligations under the CCPA and these regulations.

Note: Authority cited: Section 1798.185, Civil Code. Reference: Sections 1798.100, 1798.105, 1798.106, 1798.110, 1798.115, 1798.120, 1798.121, 1798.130, 1798.135, 1798.140 and 1798.185, Civil Code.

§ 7053. Contract Requirements for Third Parties.

- (a) A business that sells or shares a consumer’s personal information with a third party shall enter into an agreement with the third party that:
- (1) Identifies the limited and specified purpose(s) for which the personal information is made available to the third party. The purpose(s) shall not be described in generic terms, such as referencing the entire contract generally. The description shall be specific.
 - (2) Specifies that the business is making the personal information available to the third party only for the limited and specified purpose(s) set forth within the contract and requires the third party to use it only for that limited and specified purpose(s).
 - (3) Requires the third party to comply with all applicable sections of the CCPA and these regulations, including—with respect to the personal information that the business makes available to the third party—providing the same level of privacy protection as required of businesses by the CCPA and these regulations. For example, the contract may require the third party to comply with a consumer’s request to opt-out of sale/sharing forwarded to it by a first-party business and to implement reasonable security procedures and practices appropriate to the nature of the personal information to protect the personal information from unauthorized or illegal access, destruction, use, modification, or disclosure in accordance with Civil Code section 1798.81.5.
 - (4) Grants the business the right—with respect to the personal information that the business makes available to the third party—to take reasonable and appropriate steps to ensure that the third party uses it in a manner consistent with the business’s obligations under the CCPA and these regulations. For example, the business may require the third party to attest that it treats the personal information the business made available to it in the same manner that the business is obligated to treat it under the CCPA and these regulations.
 - (5) Grants the business the right, upon notice, to take reasonable and appropriate steps to stop and remediate unauthorized use of personal information made available to the third party. For example, the business may require the third party to provide documentation that verifies that it no longer retains or uses the personal information of consumers who have had their requests to opt-out of sale/sharing forwarded to it by the first party business.
 - (6) Requires the third party to notify the business after it makes a determination that it can no longer meet its obligations under the CCPA and these regulations.
- (b) Whether a business conducts due diligence of the third party factors into whether the business has reason to believe that the third party is using personal information in violation of the CCPA and these regulations. For example, depending on the circumstances, a business that never enforces the terms of the contract might not be able to rely on the defense that it did not have reason to believe that the third party intends to use the personal information in violation of the CCPA and these regulations at the time the business disclosed the personal information to the third party.

ARTICLE 5. VERIFICATION OF REQUESTS

§ 7060. General Rules Regarding Verification.

- (a) A business shall establish, document, and comply with a reasonable method for verifying that the person making a request ~~to know or a request~~ to delete, request to correct, or request to know is the consumer about whom the business has collected information.
- (b) A business shall not require a consumer to verify their identity to make a request to opt-out of sale/sharing or to make a request to limit. A business may ask the consumer for information necessary to complete the request; however, it shall not be burdensome on the consumer. For example, a business may ask the consumer for their name, but it shall not require the consumer to take a picture of themselves with their driver's license.
- (c) ~~(b)~~ In determining the method by which the business will verify the consumer's identity, the business shall:
- (1) Whenever feasible, match the identifying information provided by the consumer to the personal information of the consumer already maintained by the business, or use a third-party identity verification service that complies with this section.
 - (2) Avoid collecting the types of personal information identified in Civil Code section 1798.81.5, subdivision (d), unless necessary for the purpose of verifying the consumer.
 - (3) Consider the following factors:
 - (A) The type, sensitivity, and value of the personal information collected and maintained about the consumer. Sensitive ~~or valuable~~ personal information shall warrant a more stringent verification process. ~~The types of personal information identified in Civil Code section 1798.81.5, subdivision (d), shall be considered presumptively sensitive;~~
 - (B) The risk of harm to the consumer posed by any unauthorized ~~access or deletion,~~ correction, or access. A greater risk of harm to the consumer by unauthorized ~~access or deletion,~~ correction, or access shall warrant a more stringent verification process.;
 - (C) The likelihood that fraudulent or malicious actors would seek the personal information. The higher the likelihood, the more stringent the verification process shall be.;
 - (D) Whether the personal information to be provided by the consumer to verify their identity is sufficiently robust to protect against fraudulent requests or being spoofed or fabricated.;

- (E) The manner in which the business interacts with the consumer. ~~;~~ ~~and~~
- (F) Available technology for verification.

- (d) ~~(e)~~ A business shall generally avoid requesting additional information from the consumer for purposes of verification. If, however, the business cannot verify the identity of the consumer from the information already maintained by the business, the business may request additional information from the consumer, which shall only be used for the purposes of verifying the identity of the consumer seeking to exercise their rights under the CCPA, security, or fraud-prevention. The business shall delete any new personal information collected for the purposes of verification as soon as practical after processing the consumer's request, except as required to comply with section 7101.
- (e) ~~(d)~~ A business shall not require the consumer or the consumer's authorized agent to pay a fee for the verification of their request to ~~know or request to delete,~~ request to correct, or request to know. For example, a business may not require a consumer to provide a notarized affidavit to verify their identity unless the business compensates the consumer for the cost of notarization.
- (f) ~~(e)~~ A business shall implement reasonable security measures to detect fraudulent identity-verification activity and prevent the unauthorized ~~access to or~~ deletion, correction, or access of a consumer's personal information.
- (g) ~~(f)~~ If a business maintains consumer information that is deidentified, a business is not obligated to provide or delete this information in response to a consumer request or to re-identify individual data to verify a consumer request.
- (h) For requests to correct, the business shall make an effort to verify the consumer based on personal information that is not the subject of the request to correct. For example, if the consumer is contending that the business has the wrong address for the consumer, the business shall not use address as a means of verifying the consumer's identity.

Note: Authority cited: Section 1798.185, Civil Code. Reference: Sections 1798.100, 1798.105, 1798.106, 1798.110, 1798.115, 1798.120, 1798.121, 1798.130, 1798.135, 1798.140 and 1798.185, Civil Code.

§ 7061. Verification for Password-Protected Accounts.

- (a) If a business maintains a password-protected account with the consumer, the business may verify the consumer's identity through the business's existing authentication practices for the consumer's account, provided that the business follows the requirements in section 7060. The business shall also require a consumer to re-authenticate themselves ~~before~~ before ~~disclosing or deleting,~~ correcting, or disclosing the consumer's data.
- (b) If a business suspects fraudulent or malicious activity on or from the password-protected account, the business shall not comply with a consumer's request ~~to know or request to delete,~~ request to correct, or request to know until further verification procedures determine that the consumer request is authentic and the consumer making the request is the person about whom the business has collected information. The business may use the procedures set forth in section 7062 to further verify the identity of the consumer.

Note: Authority cited: Section 1798.185, Civil Code. Reference: Sections 1798.100, 1798.105, 1798.106, 1798.110, 1798.115, 1798.130 and 1798.185, Civil Code.

§ 7062. Verification for Non-Accountholders.

- (a) If a consumer does not have or cannot access a password-protected account with a business, the business shall comply with this section, in addition to section 7060.
- (b) A business's compliance with a request to know categories of personal information requires that the business verify the identity of the consumer making the request to a reasonable degree of certainty. A reasonable degree of certainty may include matching at least two data points provided by the consumer with data points maintained by the business that it has determined to be reliable for the purpose of verifying the consumer.
- (c) A business's compliance with a request to know specific pieces of personal information requires that the business verify the identity of the consumer making the request to a reasonably high degree of certainty. A reasonably high degree of certainty may include matching at least three pieces of personal information provided by the consumer with personal information maintained by the business that it has determined to be reliable for the purpose of verifying the consumer together with a signed declaration under penalty of perjury that the requestor is the consumer whose personal information is the subject of the request. If a business uses this method for verification, the business shall maintain all signed declarations as part of its record-keeping obligations.
- (d) A business's compliance with a request to delete or a request to correct may require that the business verify the identity of the consumer to a reasonable or reasonably high degree of certainty depending on the sensitivity of the personal information and the risk of harm to the consumer posed by unauthorized deletion or correction. For example, the deletion of family photographs or the correction of contact information may require a reasonably high degree of certainty, while the deletion of browsing history or correction of marital status may require only a reasonable degree of certainty. A business shall act in good faith when determining the appropriate standard to apply when verifying the consumer in accordance with these regulations.
- (e) Illustrative examples follow:
 - (1) Example 1: If a business maintains personal information in a manner associated with a named actual person, the business may verify the consumer by requiring the consumer to provide evidence that matches the personal information maintained by the business. For example, if a retailer maintains a record of purchases made by a consumer, the business may require the consumer to identify items that they recently purchased from the store or the dollar amount of their most recent purchase to verify their identity to a reasonable degree of certainty.
 - (2) Example 2: If a business maintains personal information in a manner that is not associated with a named actual person, the business may verify the consumer by requiring the consumer to demonstrate that they are the sole consumer associated with the personal information. For example, a business may have a mobile application that collects personal information about the consumer but does not require an account. The business may determine whether, based on the facts and considering the factors set forth in section 7060, subsection (b)(3), it may reasonably verify a consumer by asking them to provide information that only the person who used the mobile application may know or by requiring the consumer to respond to a notification sent to their device.

- (f) A business shall deny a request to know specific pieces of personal information if it cannot verify the identity of the requestor pursuant to these regulations.
- (g) If there is no reasonable method by which a business can verify the identity of the consumer to the degree of certainty required by this section, the business shall state so in response to any request and explain why it has no reasonable method by which it can verify the identity of the requestor. If the business has no reasonable method by which it can verify any consumer, the business shall explain why it has no reasonable verification method in its privacy policy. The business shall evaluate and document whether a reasonable method can be established at least once every 12 months, in connection with the requirement to update the privacy policy set forth in Civil Code section 1798.130, subdivision (a)(5).

Note: Authority cited: Section 1798.185, Civil Code. Reference: Sections 1798.100, 1798.105, 1798.106, 1798.110, 1798.115, 1798.130 and 1798.185, Civil Code.

§ 7063. Authorized Agents.

- (a) When a consumer uses an authorized agent to submit a request ~~to know or a request to delete, request to correct, or a request to know~~, a business may require the authorized agent to provide proof that the consumer gave the agent signed permission to submit the request. The business may also require the consumer to do either of the following:
 - (1) Verify their own identity directly with the business.
 - (2) Directly confirm with the business that they provided the authorized agent permission to submit the request.
- (b) Subsection (a) does not apply when a consumer has provided the authorized agent with power of attorney pursuant to Probate Code sections 4121 to 4130. A business shall not require power of attorney in order for a consumer to use an authorized agent to act on their behalf.
- (c) An authorized agent shall implement and maintain reasonable security procedures and practices to protect the consumer's information.
- (d) An authorized agent shall not use a consumer's personal information, or any information collected from or about the consumer, for any purposes other than to fulfill the consumer's requests, verification, or fraud prevention.

ARTICLE 6. SPECIAL RULES REGARDING CONSUMERS UNDER 16 YEARS OF AGE

§ 7070. Consumers Less Than ~~Under~~ 13 Years of Age.

- (a) Process for Opting-In to Sale or Sharing of Personal Information
- (1) A business that has actual knowledge that it sells or shares the personal information of a consumer less than ~~under~~ the age of 13 shall establish, document, and comply with a reasonable method for determining that the person ~~affirmatively authorizing~~consenting to the sale or sharing of the personal information about the child is the parent or guardian of that child. This ~~affirmative authorization~~consent to the sale or sharing of personal information is in addition to any verifiable parental consent required under COPPA.
 - (2) Methods that are reasonably calculated to ensure that the person providing consent is the child's parent or guardian include, but are not limited to:
 - (A) Providing a consent form to be signed by the parent or guardian under penalty of perjury and returned to the business by postal mail, facsimile, or electronic scan;
 - (B) Requiring a parent or guardian, in connection with a monetary transaction, to use a credit card, debit card, or other online payment system that provides notification of each discrete transaction to the primary account holder;
 - (C) Having a parent or guardian call a toll-free telephone number staffed by trained personnel;
 - (D) Having a parent or guardian connect to trained personnel via video-conference;
 - (E) Having a parent or guardian communicate in person with trained personnel; and
 - (F) Verifying a parent or guardian's identity by checking a form of government-issued identification against databases of such information, as long as the parent or guardian's identification is deleted by the business from its records promptly after such verification is complete.
- (b) When a business receives ~~an affirmative authorization~~consent to the sale or sharing of personal information pursuant to subsection (a), the business shall inform the parent or guardian of the right to opt-out of sale/sharing and of the process for doing so on behalf of their child pursuant to section 7026, subsections (a)-(f).
- (c) A business shall establish, document, and comply with a reasonable method, in accordance with the methods set forth in subsection (a)(2), for determining that a person submitting a request to ~~know or a request to~~ delete, request to correct, or request to know the personal information of a child under the age of 13 is the parent or guardian of that child.

§ 7071. Consumers at Least 13 Years of Age and Less Than 16 ~~to 15~~ Years of Age.

- (a) A business that has actual knowledge that it sells or shares the personal information of consumers at least 13 years of age and less than 16 years of age shall establish, document, and comply with a reasonable process for allowing such consumers to opt-in to the sale or sharing of their personal information, pursuant to section 7028.
- (b) When a business receives a request to opt-in to the sale or sharing of personal information from a consumer at least 13 years of age and less than 16 years of age, the business shall inform the consumer of their ongoing right to opt-out of sale/sharing at any point in the future ~~a later date~~ and of the process for doing so pursuant to section 7026.

Note: Authority cited: Section 1798.185, Civil Code. Reference: Sections 1798.120, 1798.135 and 1798.185, Civil Code.

§ 7072. Notices to Consumers Less Than ~~Under~~ 16 Years of Age.

- (a) A business subject to sections 7070 and/or 7071 shall include a description of the processes set forth in those sections in its privacy policy.
- (b) A business that exclusively targets offers of goods or services directly to consumers under 16 years of age and does not sell or share the personal information without the ~~affirmative authorization consent~~ of consumers at least 13 years of age and less than 16 years of age, or the ~~affirmative authorization consent~~ of their parent or guardian for consumers under 13 years of age, is not required to provide the ~~n~~Notice of ~~r~~Right to ~~e~~Opt-out of Sale/Sharing.

Note: Authority cited: Section 1798.185, Civil Code. Reference: Sections 1798.120, 1798.135 and 1798.185, Civil Code.

ARTICLE 7. NON-DISCRIMINATION

§ 7080. Discriminatory Practices.

- (a) A ~~financial incentive or a~~ price or service difference is discriminatory, and therefore prohibited by Civil Code section 1798.125, if the business treats a consumer differently because the consumer exercised a right conferred by the CCPA or these regulations.
- (b) A business may offer a ~~financial incentive or~~ price or service difference that is non-discriminatory. A price or service difference is non-discriminatory if it is reasonably related to the value of the consumer's data. If a business is unable to calculate a good-faith estimate of the value of the consumer's data or cannot show that the ~~financial incentive or~~ price or service difference is reasonably related to the value of the consumer's data, that business shall not offer the ~~financial incentive or~~ price or service difference.

- (c) A business's denial of a consumer's request to ~~know, request to~~ delete, request to correct, request to know, or request to opt-out of sale/sharing for reasons permitted by the CCPA or these regulations shall not be considered discriminatory.
- (d) Illustrative examples follow:
- (1) Example 1: A music streaming business offers a free service as well as a premium service that costs $5 per month. If only the consumers who pay for the music streaming service are allowed to opt-out of the sale or sharing of their personal information, then the practice is discriminatory, unless the $5-per-month payment is reasonably related to the value of the consumer's data to the business.
 - (2) Example 2: A clothing business offers a loyalty program whereby customers receive a $5-off coupon by email after spending $100 with the business. A consumer submits a request to delete all personal information the business has collected about them but also informs the business that they want to continue to participate in the loyalty program. The business may deny their request to delete with regard to their email address and the amount the consumer has spent with the business because that information is necessary for the business to provide the loyalty program requested by the consumer and is reasonably anticipated within the context of the business's ongoing relationship with them pursuant to Civil Code section 1798.105, subdivision (d)(1).
 - (3) Example 3: A grocery store offers a loyalty program whereby consumers receive coupons and special discounts when they provide their phone numbers. A consumer submits a request to opt-out of the sale/sharing of their personal information. The retailer complies with their request but no longer allows the consumer to participate in the loyalty program. This practice is discriminatory unless the grocery store can demonstrate that the value of the coupons and special discounts are reasonably related to the value of the consumer's data to the business.
 - (4) Example 4: An online bookseller collects information about consumers, including their email addresses. It offers coupons to consumers through browser pop-up windows while the consumer uses the bookseller's website. A consumer submits a request to delete all personal information that the bookseller has collected about them, including their email address and their browsing and purchasing history. The bookseller complies with the request but stops providing the periodic coupons to the consumer. The bookseller's failure to provide coupons is discriminatory unless the value of the coupons is reasonably related to the value provided to the business by the consumer's data. The bookseller may not deny the consumer's request to delete with regard to the email address because the email address is not necessary to provide the coupons or reasonably aligned with the expectations of the consumer based on the consumer's relationship with the business.
