

LONG-TERM CARE IN ARIZONA: A SURVEY OF REGISTERED VOTERS 50+

Chart Book Prepared by Terri Guengerich
June 2021

Most voters prefer being cared for at home if they need help and believe it is extremely important to choose where services are provided.

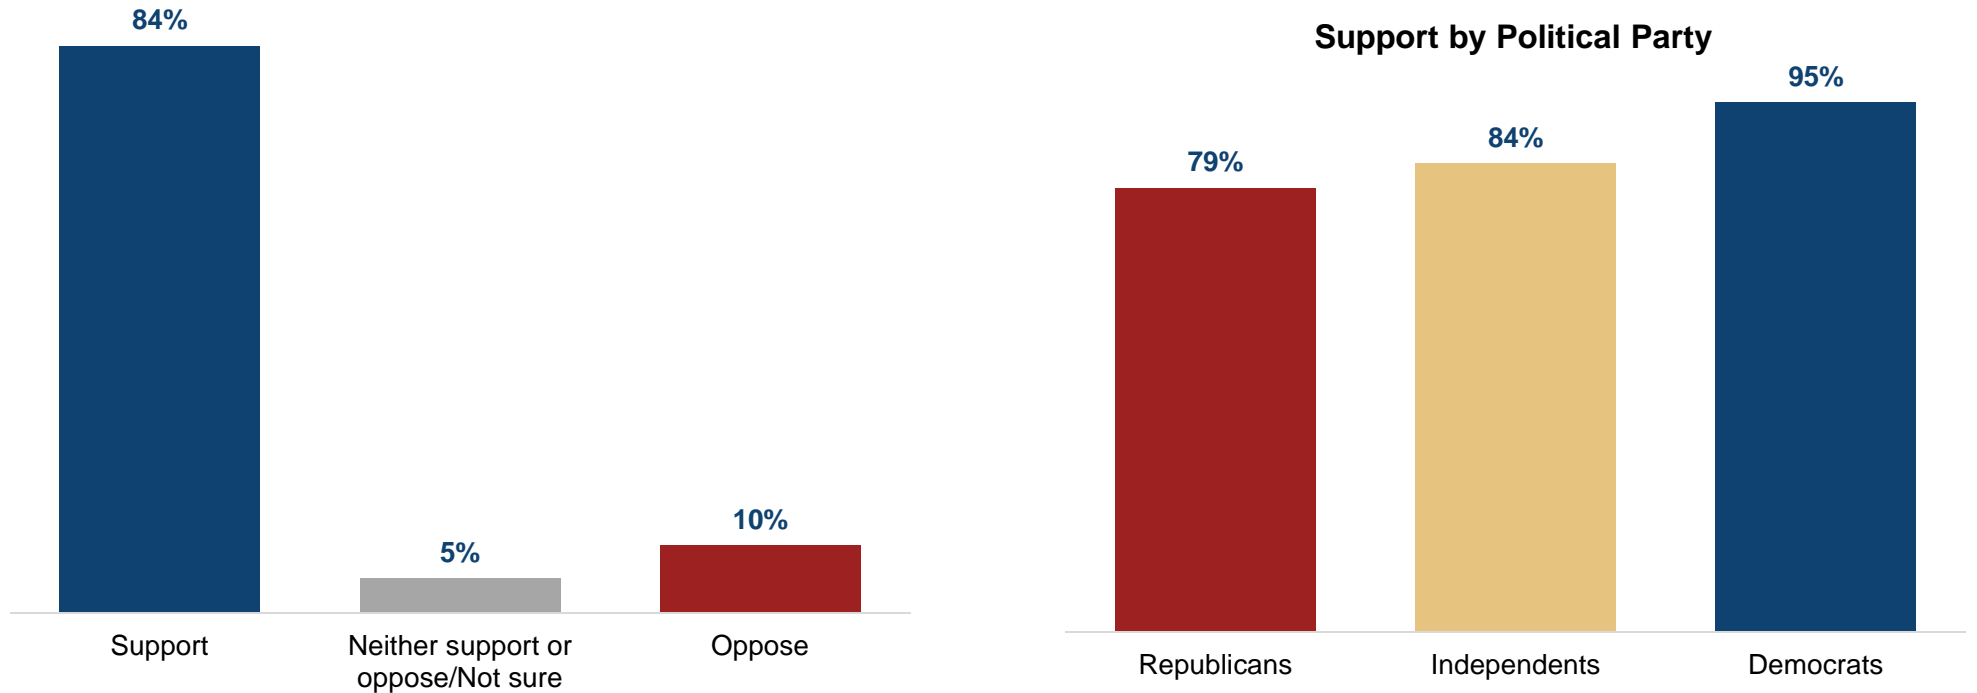

Over eight in ten voters say that if they or a family member needed help, they would prefer to receive that help at home with caregiver assistance. Less than one in ten would prefer to receive help in a nursing home. And, nine in ten say it is extremely or very important to be able to choose where long-term care services are provided.

Q11. If you or a loved one needed long-term care, would you prefer to receive that help ... ? Q13. If you or a loved one needed long-term care, how important is it for you or your loved one to be able to choose where those services are provided? Is it ... ? Base: All Respondents

Support by Political Party

Q15. More than 37 percent of COVID-19 deaths in Arizona occurred in nursing homes and other long-term care facilities. Arizona does not require daily, public reporting of COVID-19 cases and deaths in nursing homes and other long-term care facilities, leaving families of residents and future residents without the information they need to keep their loved ones safe, and hold these companies accountable. Do you support or oppose daily, public reporting of COVID-19 cases and deaths in nursing homes and other long-term care facilities? Q16. Is that strongly or somewhat? Base: All Respondents

There is overwhelming support by Arizona voters 50-plus to create a task force to evaluate and make recommendations about quality care in nursing homes.

Three in four voters support the creation of a task force to evaluate and make recommendations about the quality of care in nursing homes and other long-term care facilities. Hispanic/Latino adults 50+ in Arizona also support the creation of a task force (87%) as well as those adults 50+ in Arizona who are currently or have been a family caregiver (75%).

Q25. Do you support or oppose Arizona's state legislature creating a task force to evaluate and make recommendations about the quality of care in nursing homes and other long-term care facilities? Q26. Is that strongly or somewhat? Base: All Respondents
