Businesses Databases

Our business databases are the most detailed and accurate databases available today. Everyday new businesses open, existing businesses change locations and eventually some businesses close- because of this the database must be continually maintained to keep the information up-to-date and accurate.

Information in the databases is compiled in two phases. First we aggregate 4,000+ telephone directories and over 250 new business sources such as secretaries of state, county courthouses and public record notices. Through these sources and additional process, we can typically gather base level information. Second, our verification team calls each business to verify the information and to obtain any additional information.

Our business databases have been developed as information databases and are not derivative of another product or application. As a result, the coverage of the business databases is intended to represent all active business sites.

Quick Facts

- 183 million US Business records from 2003 to present
- 43 million active US businesses
 - 16 million telephone verified
 - 27 million pre-verified
- 1.9 million Canadian Businesses
- Compiled from 4,000+ telephone directories and thousands of other sources
- Most Accurate and up-to-date in the industry
- Telephone verified
- 35 million telephone calls placed in 2015
- Files are updated on the 1st and 3rd Friday of each month
- Out of business records removed daily
- Quality is assured throughout compilation, verification and update processes

Benefits

We have devoted significant time and resources to the creation, maintenance and enhancement of our proprietary databases and related applications and software. The database requires sophisticated processes to handle compilation, order processing, accounting, storage, sorting, and quality assurance. The system must allow a sizable work force to compile, program and process data simultaneously. More than 7,500 proprietary software programs operate the data compilation and enhancement process.

Proprietary data compilation software allows the data entry associates to access the database and update, change or verify approximately 1.5 million business listings every month. A separate quality assurance group checks input quality to ensure the information is 99% accurate from the original source. In addition, we use state of the art telephone software that greatly improves the accuracy of the verification process. Also, proprietary software has been developed to check the database for incorrect spelling, abbreviations and phone prefixes and to eliminate any inappropriate language from the database.

Breadth of Information

More than 50 demographic selects can be combined into unlimited searches to allow for target marketing and research.

Multiple Uses

- Sales leads

Highest Quality

The business databases are largely recognized as the best quality, most comprehensive and most accurate data solution for business applications. A competitive audit conducted by an independent auditor, reported that, "Data Axle is clearly the industry leader in providing accurate business information." A copy of the report can be found at the end of this proposal.

Before reaching the customer, the information collected must first pass quality checks. The customized compilation process alone contains over 2,000 information validation checks. These checks are then supplemented by computer data cleansing processes such as duplicate removal and address standardization.

Comprehensive Process

No other company has a compilation process as comprehensive and complete as Data Axle. More than 400 highly trained and dedicated associates in the Library, Compilation, Teleu research, and Quality Assurance departments work to ensure that we maintain the competitive advantage. This extensive process results in a database that contains the industry's highest deliverability and contact rates. By purchasing Data Axle data, our clients are able to make the most effective use of their resources.

Update Frequency

Because we process all businesses through Telephone Verification at least once per year, out-of-business locations are regularly cleansed from the database. Moreover, we process transactions-based data, which identifies probably out-of-business listings from across the country each month. These businesses are telephone verified and appropriate changes are made to the database. Out of business records are removed from Data Axle Reference Solutions daily, while records are updated, changed, modified or added, twice a month. We have included our "File Transfer Report, which covers the changes and enhancements made to the database each month. This "File Transfer Report" can be found at the end of this RFQ.

Compilation

Our data collection methods are unique and provide several advantages: comprehensive coverage of all businesses (regardless of size), complete information on each business, accurate and up-to-date information, standardized data elements and dependability for future needs.

Depth of Information

Businesses need more than basic listings to power most marketing applications. Thus we also compile information from annual reports, government documents such as 10-K's, SEC Filings, chamber of commerce directories, industrial directories and other sources. These multiple sources provide more business listings and additional information on individual businesses.

State of the Art call center

We manage a 270-seat call center in Nebraska where 35 million calls are made each year to verify the business database. The call center is organized into specialized groups organized by the type and size of the business. As an example, one calling group is dedicated to verifying information about brand new businesses while another verifies information about physicians and dentists and yet another verifies Canadian businesses. The specialization enables the verification team to gather complete and accurate information. The Telephone verification agents will verify the company name, address (physical and mailing), phone number, contact name, title and gender of the owner or president at that location and the number of employees for smaller businesses. We also verify additional information based on the size of the business. Such as, the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Code, Web address, toll free numbers, fax numbers and the name, title code, gender and email addresses.
